Merchants ready Information Center for Jan. 2 opening

BY PAT SHERMAN

The new La Jolla Information Center at 1162 Prospect St. won't just be a place for tourists to stumble into with questions about souvenirs and harbor seals. It will also be a place where the community can learn about Spike and Mike's Festival of Animation's upcoming 30th anniversary celebration or charitable opportunities, such as a police storefront renovation or the Children's Pool Sidewalk Beautification Project, said La Jolla Merchants Association (LJVMA) Board President Phil Collier at the group's Dec. 12 meeting.

"We'd love to help you promote your event," Collier told Spike & Mike co-founder Craig "Spike" Decker. "We think it's a great thing for La Jolla." The festival, Feb. 9 to March 22 at the Museum of Contemporary Art on Prospect Street, will include 11 days of screenings and early works by Disney•Pixar directors John Lasseter ("Toy Story," "Cars") and Andrew Stanton ("Finding Nemo").

La Jolla unified once more in City Council District 1

BY PAT SHERMAN

District 1 City Council representative Sherri Lightner began her second term Dec. 3 — the same day the Southeast corner of La Jolla transitioned from District 2 to District 1, effectively reunifying La Jolla as one constituency.

"I look forward to representing the whole of La Jolla for the next four years and thank the community for their tireless work to ensure that all of La Jolla was included in District 1 as part of last year's redistricting process," Lightner said.

Joe LaCava

Bird Rock resident and land use expert Joe LaCava attended a litany of redistricting commission hearings that began in April 2011, to assure the entirety of La Jolla and University City were included in his district. The commission had the final say on boundaries for the new City Council districts — which included the creation of a ninth district, as mandated by the city's strong mayor form of government. LaCava drew up plans for what became known as the "Coast and Canyons" map of District 1 — boundaries that received so little resistance from the judicially appointed commissioners that they were the first to be approved.

"I went and met with anybody that would listen to me — planning groups, town councils, a couple of rotary groups, and then I went to every single redistricting commission hearing and made our case," LaCava said. "We said, 'You guys can carve up the rest of the city any way you think is best, but we want to define the new District 1.'"

To LaCava, reunifying La Jolla — which was split in the redistricting process of 2000 — made perfect sense.

"It just makes it easier," he said. "If you have a project or entity that
